

WATER's Feminist Conversations in Religion Series presents —

"Where are You Really From? An Asian American Feminist Biblical Scholar Reflects on Her Guild": An hour-long teleconference with Gale A. Yee

Wednesday, 12 January 2011
1:00PM-2:00PM EST

How to Register
Email the words "Register Me" to waterstaff@hers.com by January 11 and you will receive dial-in information.

Gale A. Yee is the Nancy W. King Professor of Biblical Studies at EDS where she engages in postcolonial criticism, ideological criticism, and cultural criticism as part of her biblical scholarship. Professor Yee also uses feminist theory and Asian American Studies to enhance her interpretations of the Bible. She is active in the Society of Biblical Literature, and was general editor of the Semeia Studies.

She is the author of several books including the widely used text Poor Banished Children of Eve: Woman as Evil in the Hebrew Bible (Fortress Press). Her current book project is Open Your Hand to the Poor: The Creation of Poverty in Ancient Israel.

Gale is a welcome contributor to WATER's newest book, New Feminist Christianity: Many Voices, Many Views (edited by Mary E. Hunt and Diann L. Neu, Skylight Paths 2010) with her chapter entitled "Where Are You Really From? An Asian American Feminist Biblical Scholar Reflects on Her Guild."

Gather your friends and colleagues for lunch and join us for what is sure to be an engaging session. This is also a great opportunity for study groups and seminary or university classes to hear from an expert on the Hebrew Bible.
