Feminist Theology in Theological Education A Conversation with Rosemary Radford Ruether

Thursday, July 8, 2010
1:00 PM - 2:00 PM EDT

RSVP to e.speigle@gmail.com or call 301 589-2509 to receive dial-in information by July 7, 2010.

Rosemary Radford Ruether will speak about her chapter, "Feminist Theology in Theological Education," in the anthology New Feminist Christianity: Many Voices, Many Views, published by Skylight Paths, forthcoming July 2010. She will focus on feminism in theological education as well as the reception of feminist theology in Africa and Latin America. She will also include some reflections on the situation in Taiwan where she has been lecturing of late. As professor emerita at Garrett Evangelical Theological Seminary and the Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley she is well qualified to comment on theological education.

Dr. Ruether is a world-renowned theologian whose dozens of books, hundreds of articles, chapters, and lectures have sparked thousands of readers and students to new insights. Her scope is so enormous—feminist theology, classical theology especially the Patristic Period, Palestinian issues, eco-feminist work, women-church—that it is easier to note what she has not written on! Still, Rosemary has incredible energy for teaching, lecturing, and solidarity work around the world. Her most recent book is Many Forms of Madness: a Family's Struggle with Mental Illness and the Mental Health System.

Please feel free to join us on the call for a lively discussion with Rosemary Radford Ruether. Gather some friends, have lunch, and join in the conversation!
