Welcome to WATERmark, WATER's eNewsletter!

Bienvenido! Willkommen! Karibu! Huānyíng guānglín!

Thanks for your interest in WATER's work to promote feminist values for social and religious change. This is our new monthly eNewsletter updating you on current happenings, which we will send out in addition to the quarterly WATERwheel.

We are a feminist educational center and network of justice-seekers who bring twenty-seven years of experience to programs and publications, liturgical planning and consultation, workshops and retreats, counseling and spiritual direction. We help thousands of people create and sustain inclusive communities in society and religion.

To learn more about who we are and what we do, click here.

To support our work, donate your dollars or time here.

Again, welcome. We hope you will stay connected.

WATER Teleconference with Rosemary Radford Ruether

Thanks to Rosemary Radford Ruether for leading our monthly teleconference. It was a wonderful chance to hear her sweeping overview of the field of feminist theology. Much of that part of her presentation can be read in her chapter entitled "Feminist Theology in Theological Education" in the forthcoming (this month) volume New Feminist Christianity: Many Voices, Many Views edited by Mary E. Hunt and Diann L. Neu, available through WATER.

The teleconference can be accessed here.

For more information, see our recent blog posts.

Introducing WATER Summer 2010 Interns

In this Issue

- Introducing Summer 2010 Interns

July Prayer

Spirit of Renewal, breathe into all waters. Waters, be made clean that you may fully praise our Creator and share your life-giving powers. Source of Life, Living Water, Restoring Holy One, heal all waters, especially the Gulf of Mexico. Amen. Blessed Be. Let It Be So.

New Feminist Christianity: Many Voices, Many Views

Edited by Mary E. Hunt and Diann L. Neu

The twenty-eight contributors to this book are the thought leaders of the future who are shaping, and being shaped by, the emerging directions of feminist Christianity. A must-read for anyone in Christian ministry.

Elizabeth Speigle (left) will be a senior at Goshen College, majoring in Sociology and minoring in Women's Studies and Religion. She is originally from Harleysville, PA.

Nellie Beckett (middle) is a 2010 graduate of Blair High School in Silver Spring, MD, and will be attending Smith College in the fall.

Ikhlas Saleem (right) will be a senior at Wellesley College, and is majoring in Religion. She is originally from Atlanta, GA.
